HURLOCK IMPRESSES MONTREAL CRITICS. AMERICAN-BRED EPSOM DERBY HORSES.

Runs a Fast Half-Mile and Wins Like a Coming Star of the Track

Montreal, Que., June 11.—A good card furnished an excellent day's sport at Blue Bonnets this afternoon. A majority of the finishes were keenly contested and although the six choices went down in defeat there was little complaint on that score, as all of the winners were well backed.

W. F. Presgrave showed up what is probably one of the best two-year-olds on the grounds in the opening race in the filly, Hurlock, which won with ridiculous ease after making all the pace. Hurlock is a filly of great size and built in symmetrical proportions. She attracted considerable attention at Pimlico last spring, and in her paddock parade this afternoon a large group of horsemen gathered around to admire her. McCahey had the mount and the word was passed around that it was only a question of the filly leaving the barrier for her to win. She ran very green, but had so much speed that she won practically without much effort. After the race came several offers for Hurlock, one of which was $3,000, made by William Shields. Thomas W. Clyde, who is kere himself on a vacation, is not anxious to dispose of Hurlock, and the chances are that she will carry that turfman's purple and black cap for the remainder of the season.

Mr. Clyde, by the way, is much impressed with

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

D. K. A., St. Louis, Mo. The bet on McCarter the third race of June 9 was a draw.

Alex T., Minneapolis, Minn. Marechal Neil was not raced. None of her produce has raced with distinction as yet.

C. A. C., St. Louis, Mo. The parlay lost. The subsequent disqualification of Tommy Ahearn did not affect it in any way. In such cases bets stand. George T., Toronto. Ont. Essex II. having changed ownership and Flying Virginian having been scratched, there was no Kerr entry and the wager

M. T. P. and J. W. W., Chicago, The average price against Please in the first race at Toronto, June 6, was $1.05 to 1. The closing price was 9 to 10, opening 6 to 5.

R. L. P., Chicago. The reply was based on the supposition that the bet was at track mutuel odds and that it won $13 here on the split as it would have done at the track.

A. W., Chicago. On a close call a wager on the imit of 3:57 was on time. As no horse is menioned in your query, do not know whether it won r lost. Its running settled that.

P. S., Chicago. Cannot undertake to decide what was meant. At any rate, it is clear that a bet was won on Spencer Reiff. It is up to the person the accepted the bet to say what he understood it o be. If he holds that in case Boseben, Jack Atkin or Fitz Herbert had been beaten, the bet would have lost, then he should pay on all.

Contestants in the Great Race from Umpire Down to Norman III.

Norman III.'s prominent position in the Derby betting and his credentials as the Two Thousand Guineas winner, sets one wondering as to the fate of other American-bred animals which have competed at Epsom in the "greatest race of the world." So far as I am aware, a list of these runners has never yet been published, and I will endeavor to supply the deficiency. Everybody knows, of course, that Iroquois, in carrying off the Derby of 1881, made his own and his owner's (the late Mr. P. Lorillard) names famous throughout the world. He, however, was not the first colt bred in the United States to compete in our Dérby, for twelve months earlier his owner nominated Boreas, which failed to gain a place in Bend Or's year. Apparently the actual first American-bred horse to compete in an English Derby was Mr. R. Ten Broeck's Umpire, which finished sixth behind Thormanby in 1860. (Umpire, by the way, was successful on sixteen occasions in this country.) American and other "invasions" disturb us very little nowadays, but it, does not appear to have been so fifty years ago, since before the start Mr. Wyatt, the owner of Nutbourne, a pretty smart colt which broke down during the running of the race, lodged an objection against the half-brother to Lexington on "account of his age."

bourne, a pretty smart colt which broke down during the running of the race, lodged an objection against the half-brother to Lexington on "account of his age."

Seventeen years elapsed before the States furnished another Derby candidate. This was Mr. M. H. Sanford's Brown Frince, by Lexington, out of an imported mare by The Flying Dutchman. He ran second to Chamant in the Two Thousand Guineas, but in the Derby failed to get a place, Silvio winning by a length and a half from Glen Arthur. Brown Prince, which became a roarer, served many years at the stud in Ireland (where he died ten years ago), and his name is to be found in many irish pedigrees. He got Kilsallaghan, which won the Goodwood Cup by six lengths in 1894.

I have already made a reference to the 1880 Derby, and the next year was that of Iroquois, a fine, upstanding brown colt, with a white stripe down the face and the left fore coronet white. Bred by Mr. A. Welch at the Erdenheim Stud, Pennsylvania, in 1878, he was a son of Leannington and Maggie B. B., by Australian, another imported horse. He quietly made his debut in the Newmarket Two-Year-Old Plate at the Second Spring Meeting in 1880, winning easily by four lengths from five others. That season, out of twelve starts, he won four races, including the July Stakes, beating Thebias, but his form, although useful, was not that of a Derby horse. In 1881 Mr. Lorillard's colt, when palpably backward, finished three lengths behind Peregrine in the Two Thousand Guineas, with another "American," Mr. James R. Keene's Don Fulano, third. In the Derby, however, then much fitter, Iroquois took decisive revenge and, ridden by Archer, won somewhat easily by a length and a half from his Two Thousand Guineas conqueror. In common fairness, it must be admitted that his thirteen opponents (amongst which were two other "Americans" belonging to Mr. Keene), were not of the highest caliber, for the only ones with any pretentions to "class" were Scobell (the Middle Park Plate winner), St. Louis, and Tristan (which develope

As it was, he was only beaten a nead by Comirey in a desperately close finish, with the favorite, Sandia (another American), a like distance away third.

The next year, 1898, saw three American colts—Mr. Belmont's Golden Bridge, Mr. Curtis' Archduke II. and Mr. Lorillard's Elfin (brother to Democrat)—finish amongst the "also rans."

Two years later America had a couple of very different horses to represent her in the Derby. They were Democrat—almost invincible as a two-year-old —owned by the late Lord William Beresford and Mr. Lorillard, and Disguise II., a very handsome son of the great Domino and imp. Bonnie Gal, by Galopin, the property of Mr. James R. Keene. Bonnie Gal was purchased in the December sales, 1892, for 1,600 guineas. How Democrat completely lost his form after his juvenile days is well known, but in the Derby, Disguise II., which was trained by Sam Darling, put up a good fight, in which he and Forfarshire interfered with one another, and at the finish occupied third position behind Diamond Jubilee and Simondale. A few months later Mr. Keene's colt had his revenue, for he carried off the Jockey Club Stakes of 10,000 sovereigns, beating, amongst others, the Derby winner, as well as Forfarshire and Scintillant.

In the Derby field of 1901 were Olympian, Tantalus and Prince Charles II., which were all bred in the United States. The second named, owned by Mr. Lorillard, was the last animal to carry his colors in a classic race, as his owner died about a month after the Epsom meeting. Prince Charles II. was the nomination of the late Mr. W. C. Whitney, and that gentleman, in conjunction with Mr. Haggin, in the antumn of 1901 purchased Nasturtium (the absolute best colt of his age in the states), for $50,000, with the expressed determination of winning the 1902 Derby with him. His departure from New York was a notable one, and when he reached this country he was placed in charge of Huggins, then at Heath House, Newmarket. Shortly after his arrival there he contracted the severe illness which left him

GOOD RACING AT LATONIA

STONE STREET REVENGES HIMSELF ON HIS DETRACTORS AND WINS A GOOD RACE.

Turfmen Much Depressed Over Action of the New York Senate-Mechanical Totalizer of Mutuels Ready for Use.

Cincinnati, O., June 11.—News of the passage of the New York anti-race track bills by the senate, which reached Latonia early in the afternoon, had which reached Latonia early in the afternoon, had a depressing effect on turfmen. The gravity of the situation is now fully realized. It had been confidently expected that Governor Hughes would fail to pass his pet measures, and the announcement that he had been successful was felt the more keenly. A number of turfmen had made arrangements to go to Buffalo for the opening of Kenilworth, and Rome Respess had intended to ship a big string to New York. These arrangements have all been cancelled pending further developments. Today's racing was enjoyed and witnessed by an increased attendance. Speculation was also livelier than at any time during the week. Only one long-priced winner was successful. That was Stone Street, in the closing race, when he beat a good

The Kentucky Steeplechase over the club house course was intended as the feature. It brought out a poor field and resulted in a one-sided contest, as H. Filppen's entry, consisting of Bell-the-Cat and Woodside, were much the best and held the race at their mercy from the start, finishing first and second, with McIlvain taking third place. La Veita, which was coupled with McIlvain, fell at the second jump, and Harlequin had to be pulled up at the last jump in the field on account of falling lame. All the starters after the race showed symptoms of lameness.

The totalizer, which will be installed here about Monday next, was given a thorough test this after-noon and worked satisfactorily. It is probable that the $2 mutuel machines will be raised to $2,50 next week, this to simplify the computing by the totalizer.

FAVORITES FAIL BADLY AT HAMILTON.

St. Jeanne Defeats Polly Prim Easily in the Best

Hamilton, Ont., June 11.—The crowds at Hamilton still hold up and the racing today was full of surprises for the talent. Not a favorite crossed the winning line and the twenty-four layers that cut in reaped a harvest. The Walker Cup, a race for steeplechase horses owned in Canada, over a course of two miles, and carrying with it a silver cup valued at $250, which must be won twice by the same owner, and also had a purse which had a value of $430 to the winner, was the head-liner today. Spencer Reiff was a disappointment to his backers. After being prominent for the first turn of the filed he fell back beaten, finishing third, many lengths behind the winner, Picktime, while Steve Lane was an eighth of a mile behind Spencer Reiff. Bilberry showed the most speed on the flat, and at the beginning of the second turn of the field appeared all over the winner, but failed to clear the thirteenth jump. Rae, who came out of the hospital today, remounted, but Bilberry refused to go. The fourth race, the Gibson Handicap, brought together a field of seven that had some pretensions to good class. Polly Prim was heavily backed and was a disappointment. Opening at the short price of 4 to 5, the price was considered a good one, especially with jockey Nicol up, and at post time the out-of-town money began to show and 3 to 5 was the best to be had. The barrier went up with Polly Prim showing the way and St. Jeanne in close attendance. At the half-mile post McCabetook St. Jeanne to the front and opened a commanding lead. At the eighth he pulled his whip and the St. Mark filly went past the judges' stand a winner by three lengths, with Polly Prim second.

MADDEN AFTER SARATOGA SPECIAL.

John Madden intends to make a certainty of the Saratoga Special this season. He has taken three subscriptions, and he has a first-class youngster for each, with one to spare. It is almost sure that he will name Joe Madden, Sir Martin and Fayette in separate subscriptions. He knows already what those youngsters can do, yet he is not required to send in their names before next Monday.

Francis R. Hitcheock has leased from his brother, Thomas Hitcheock, Jr., the racing qualities of the two-year-old filly, Witching Hour, for the Saratoga Special. Witching Hour is a Madden-bred daughter of Star Shoot, out of Bewitcher, which made her debut at Washington. She did not distinguish herself there and Madden sold her to Thomas Hitcheock, Jr., at Belmont Parks fore he left the States. In the 1904 Derby Lancashire unsuccessfully carried Mr. Buchanan's colors. He was bred by Mr. Keene who disposed of the son of Kingston and Calico at the previous December sales for $15,000. Last season we had Orby, out of an American-bred daughter of the wonderful Hanover, capture the Derby, as all the world knows. The record of American-bred horses in the Derby is that twenty-three animals have represented the States during the last fifty years, with the result that one has proved successful and two others filled the third position.—Allison in London Sportsman.

MERICAN-BRED EPSOM DERBY HORSES.
